A NEW STYLE OF ACTION

ORIENTAL GAMES

The
crashing of bamboo
shinai as the Kendo warriors do battle; Kung Fu masters turning inner strength to powerful punches amongst a flurry of scissor kicks; and the no holds barred brawling of the sport they tried to ban;
Kyo-Kus-Hin-Kai

These are the Oriental Games – the ultimate modern-day martial arts competition.

The Oriental Games comprise three events – Kendo, Kung Fu & Kyo-Kus-Hin-Kai – combined into the supreme challenge of fighting skills. Winning an individual gold medal at novice level will take courage, skill and flare. Overall victory in the Oriental Games as a professional demands complete mastery of the martial arts.

- Unique fully definable joystick editor allows you to fine tune your controls and build up sequences of moves (16-bit only).
- Incorporates Kyo-Kus-Hin-Kai, the sport they tried to ban.
- Three fight simulations in one game. (Sumo is included as a fourth event on Spectrum/Amstrad versions.)
- Up to 16 players (Up to 4 players on Spectrum/ Amstrad versions).
- Three levels of difficulty – Novice, Expert and Professional (16-bit only).
- High quality digitised sound (16-bit only).
- Intelligent computer opponents.
- Full ratings system enables you to win medals and, ultimately, the Oriental Games Trophy.

"When you have attained the way of strategy there will not be one thing which you do not understand."
